

New transport governance in Finland

– Two new organizations started in 2010: Finnish Transport Agency (FTA) & Finnish Transport Safety Agency (Trafi)

Goals of the reform

- From agency-specific interests to the optimization of the whole transport system and implementation of the transport policy
- More attention to be paid to clients' needs in the whole travel and transport chain
- Productivity, effectiveness and synergy benefits
- Effective use and controlled development of resources
- Cooperation and innovation
- Functions with the same contents to be combined and coordinated

The reform prepared the way for a new transport policy!

FTA:

- maintains and develops the transport system in cooperation with other actors
- handles and develops traffic management
- is responsible for the planning, maintenance and building of railways and waterways
- is responsible for the implementation of major transport infrastructure projects
- develops the operating framework for public transport
- provides the operating framework for winter navigation

Trafi:

- responsible for many transport related public services and transport system regulatory duties in all transport modes
- oversees compliance with rules and regulations governing the transport system
- focus on safety and environmentally friendly transport solutions
